City of Edmonton's Community Safety and Well-being Task Force

Dan Jones has worked in the justice system for 26 years. He spent three years as a correctional officer and 23 years with the Edmonton Police Service, obtaining the rank of Inspector. Daniel's current role is the Inspector in the Research and Community Solutions Accelerator. Daniel earned his master's degree at the University of Cambridge in Applied Criminology receiving the Wakefield Scholarship. He is currently a PhD Candidate at the University of Huddersfield where he received the Secure Societies Institute Scholarship. Daniel is working in collaboration with the University of Alberta on the University of Alberta Prison Project and is also a sessional instructor at the University of Alberta in the Sociology Department. His focus of study is the Victim-Offender overlap and looking at how research and evidence-based practice can create positive systems change.
